

Why Christ Came

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 8

A Pharisee by the name of Nicodemus came to Jesus at night and said, "We know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that Thou doest, except God be with him."—John 3:1.

Jesus answered him, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. . . . That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. . . . Ye must be born again."—John 3:3-7.

Nicodemus again queried Jesus: "How can these things be?" Jesus answered, "Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? . . . We speak what we do know, and testify that we have seen."—John 3:9-11.

"If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? . . . Whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life."—John 3:12, 15. GOLDEN TEXT—John 3:17.

Christianity-Psychiatry, 'The Doctrine Of Acceptance'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer
The stranger at the gate was considered an enemy at first. But once he got inside the house, he seemed to belong there. In fact, he finally was recognized as a life-long, important member of the family.

That, in short, is the tale of psychiatry's entry into the household of religion.

Despite the cold reception, and psychiatry's own unfriendly attitude in the beginning, the field is widely regarded today not only as being in basic harmony with the church, but as having had its actual origins there.

Noted theologian, philosopher Paul J. Tillich, of Harvard University, has traced this strange relationship, pointing out that a fundamental of both Christianity and psychiatry is the doctrine of acceptance of imperfect man.

While this concept stemmed from Christ, he says its significance was neglected in much recent theology until psychiatry helped restore it.

"The good news that he who feels unworthy of being accepted by God can be certain that he is accepted had been buried under doctrinal rigidity and aridity," he says, even though it was at the heart of Jesus' teaching.

But then, he adds, along came the psychoanalytic pattern, with its non-judging "acceptance of the mentally disturbed" to jolt the weight of Christianity back to its basic emphasis.

"Present theology can say again that acceptance by God of him who is not able to accept himself is the center of the Christian message," Dr. Tillich says.

Strangely, he notes, this rediscovery by the churches was stimulated by a man who spurned religion, Sigmund Freud, even though Freud carved psychoanalysis out of material intrinsic to the faith he disowned.

Not only theologians, but also many psychiatrists have noted this curious kinship.

Dr. Earl A. Loomis Jr., professor of psychiatry and religion at Union Theological Seminary, says that Freud, despite his jobs at religion, actually came close to the Bible's central teaching in stressing man's "psycho-somatic unity."

Freud saw, Dr. Loomis points out, that "man's whole life is of a piece," that "man lives with his whole being," that "inwardness is important," that "rules and regulations are less significant than love and self-discipline."

REALITY IS CHANGE
DES MOINES (AP)—Declaring that some people fear change and new ideas, regard "modern life as degenerate" and want "things as they used to be," Methodist Bishop F. Gerald Ensley said at a church meeting here:

"This desire to keep things just as they are is futile. There is no way you can prevent life from changing. . . . God does not resist change—God initiates it. Far from approving reaction, God actually punishes those who won't change."

Rev. Henry Guest Speaker Sunday

SOUTH STERLING — A native of the West Indies, Donald Henry, will speak in each of the three churches of the Methodist Charge on Jan. 22 during morning worship.

Henry, who holds degrees from Calwood Seminary, Jamaica, and the University of London, is a special student at Drew University.

A resident of Antigua, West Indies, he is an ordained Methodist minister and has served several Methodist churches in the West Indies.

During the afternoon of Jan. 22, Henry will be interviewed by four members of the Greenwood-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship. Their interview will be a part of the Jan. 29 MYF program at Hemlock Grove.

Donna Bartlesone, of Newfoundland, is faith chairman of the sub-district, and in this of-

Moravian Elects Officers

NEWFOUNDLAND—A rising vote of thanks acclaimed Miss Cora Lange during the annual meeting of the Moravian Sunday School held at the church.

Miss Lange, who retired this week, has completed twenty-five years as superintendent of the primary department.

Election of leaders took place during the session. J. Robert Burdick was named superintendent of the Sunday School and Mrs. Emil Wohlfart was chosen assistant superintendent.

Mrs. Glen Stevens was elected secretary, with James Hinton as first assistant secretary and Douglas Smith as second assistant. Mrs. F. Carroll Krautter is in charge of the youth program.

At 7:30 p.m., on the 22, Henry will be the speaker at the Pocono Sub-district Youth Rally at Lake Ariel.

Today's Lesson, 'Why Christ Came'

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
"THERE was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews," who came to Jesus at night and said to Him: "Rabbi, we know that Thou art a teacher from God: for no man can do these miracles that Thou doest except God be with him."—John 3:1, 2.

"Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."—John 3:4-6.

No one can be born again physically, but we can turn from evil ways to follow the Lord's teachings. We can become acceptable to Him and to the God who is the Father of us all.

Even the small children in the class can understand Christ's words. If they have been disobedient to their parents, they can become obedient at home and to their teachers in school. "Nicodemus answered and said unto Him, How can these things be?"—John 3:9.

"Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou master of Israel, and knowest not these things? We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen."—John 3:10, 11.

Pocono Union Accepts 7 New Members

SEVEN people became members of Pocono Union Church, Henryville, following Holy Communion last Sunday.

Becoming members were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thiel, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tucker, Mrs. Tom Greaves, Mrs. Edward Wood and Harvey Tucker.

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. the Congregational meeting will be held in the church, at which time business matters for the new year will be discussed.

Thursday the long delayed Christmas party of the Pocono-Paradise WSCS will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barry.

CONGO CHURCHES SURVIVING
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Back from an "emergency visit" to the Congo, Dr. Robert G. Nelson, head of Africa work for Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), says churches there are still in full operation, and some medical stations are being maintained, despite widespread instability.

Some conflicting economic interests have developed, involving both foreign and domestic trade practices. Canada has clung more tenaciously to a sound dollar. Many Canadians think the United States acts first and then considers Canada's interests. There is no cooperation on Cuban policy. Withdrawal from the North American Air Defense Command has been suggested.

It would be too bad to let this tarnishing process continue just for lack of attention.

Look at President Eisenhower from any angle you wish, there is one thing that stands out. When he went in the nation was at war. Now it isn't. Entry into the Indo-China war was avoided despite great pressure, which even included a leaning in that direction by John Foster Dulles. A showdown with the Soviet Union over Berlin has been at least postponed. India, thanks primarily to Red China but with some credit due the President personally, has shifted from pro-Communist neutrality to just plain neutrality. Firm decisions have been made with regard to Cuba and Laos even in the waning days of the administration. Eisenhower wasn't responsible for everything that happened or didn't happen, but the worst things didn't happen.

Records Shattered At Sale Of Championship Stock

By BILL GIBSON
HARRISBURG (AP)—A 16-year-old Lancaster County girl, her eyes red from crying, Friday sold her State Farm Show grand champion steer for a record-smashing $41.0 a pound.

Maria Frey, Quarryville R. D. 2, fought back more tears as she led her prized 920-pound Angus around the auction ring during the bidding which climaxed the sale of champion steers and lambs.

Bill Geise of Swift and Company, bought the black animal for Howard Johnson Restaurants at a total cost of $3,772. The previous record for a steer was $3.75 a pound.

Miss Frey's year-old Angus, Terry, won the 4-H and Open Championships on successive days.

"Do I have to go in there," she asked as Lancaster auctioneer A. W. Diefenbach sold the last of the champion lambs.

Under farm show rules, all champions must be sold in the auction.

The sale of the steer was the last event of the five-day annual exposition.

Another price record was shattered in bidding for the champion 4-H lambs.

George's Foodliner Market, Bethlehem, paid $2.80 per pound for the 100-pound grand champion lamb, a Southdown shown by Thomas Coons of York R. D. 3. The price was more than twice as much as the previous high of $1.35 paid for the 1955 champion.

The 110-pound reserve champion, shown by Thomas' brother, Richard, went to Harry Alinkoff and Sons, Wilkes-Barre, for $1.30 per pound.

The reserve grand champion, a 1,100-pound Hereford shown by 13-year-old Fred Linton Jr., also Quarryville R. D. 2, was bought by Widford Sales, Widford, Pa., for $1.01 per pound.

Earl Dehmy, Middletown, Dauphin County, received $5.50 per pound for his 1,050-pound champion shorthorn. The high bidder was Boyd Kline, Bloomsburg.

The reserve champion Angus, a 1,030-pound steer shown by Larry Bair, Adams County, was bought by El Patio Restaurants, Harrisburg, for $4.49 per pound. The 1,085-pound reserve champion Hereford, owned by Mary Jane Herr, Lancaster County, brought $4.41 per pound on a bid from Mansion House Restaurant, Pine Grove, Pa., and Kline purchased the reserve champion shorthorn, a 775-pound animal shown by Richard Rishel, York County, for $5.51 per pound.

The grand champion pen of two Southdown lambs, owned by Thomas Coons of York and weighing a total of 190 pounds, was bought Friday by Boyd H. Kline of Bloomsburg for $351.50—$1.85 a pound.

Kline said he would donate the two lambs to the Bloomsburg and Berwick Hospitals.

Pride Hurting Negotiations U.S.-Canada Relationship Drag In Bus Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Negotiations dragged on Friday with both management and labor resisting efforts to modify their positions and avert a midnight Saturday strike on Philadelphia's bus, trolley and subway-elevated system.

City officials, headed by Mayor Richardson Dilworth, kept negotiators at the bargaining table — separately and jointly — as they pressed demands for settlement of the contract dispute.

Officials of Local 234, Transport Workers Union, which represents 5,900 operating and maintenance employees of the Philadelphia Transportation Co., insisted the firm must make a wage offer.

This PTC has refused to do without a guarantee from the city that it will support a request for higher fares.

That demand the city has resisted.

For the union's part, it wants a 45-cent-an-hour boost for its members—and on that point has declined to budge.

A shutdown of the vast transit system would affect about a million riders in America's fourth largest city.

PTC claims it is operating in the red, and thus can't afford to add to its financial burden by raising wages even a penny an hour.

The present union contract shows the top hourly pay is $2.31 for maintenance men. Trolley and bus operators get less.

PTC reportedly has sought support by the city administration for a penny hike in the present 22-cent cash fare and a boost of two cents for tokens, now 20 cents each when purchased five for $1.

Dilworth is quoted as saying he'd go along only for the cash fare boost, nothing else. The city, over the years, has fought every PTC request for a fare rise. The last was granted on Oct. 25.

Rep. Holland Not Interested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., said yesterday he is not interested in membership of the House Rules Committee.

The Pittsburgh Democrat said House Speaker Sam Rayburn has considered him as a possibility for the committee as part of a plan to liberalize it.

Holland said, however, that he is working on a comprehensive report on automation and unemployment for presentation to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"I'm too wrapped up in this," Holland told a newsman. "I wouldn't want to leave the Labor Committee — I'd lose my strength."

A former organizer for the United Steelworkers Union, Holland still retains his membership in the union and is closely associated with the labor movement.

On numerous occasions he has been an outspoken critic of the rules committee and the ways in which it has held up liberal legislation.

Unemployment Claims Rise

HARRISBURG (AP) — Unemployment compensation claims rose last week to the highest levels since 1958, the Bureau of Employment Security reported yesterday.

The bureau reported continued claims of 333,495 for the week ended Jan. 6 compared to 282,421 for the last week of December and 208,368 a year ago. It was the highest since May 1958.

New claims rose to 77,508 from 74,079. A year ago the volume was 52,224 claims. Last week's mark was the highest since January 1958.

This Series of Messages In Support of The Church is Being Published Each Week in The Daily Record

Sponsored by the Following Sincere Individuals and Business Establishments

When Christopher Columbus began his probe of an unknown ocean there were many who predicted he would soon reach the edge of the world...and fall off into nothingness.

Today we are probing that nothingness. The edge of the world is everywhere; and man eagerly reaches for whirling worlds that pioneers yet unborn may colonize.

As we explore the vastness of God's creation we realize with greater awe

His might and majesty. But greater, we know, is our need for understanding

His Will, and His Love for man.

For man can take to his new worlds tomorrow only the Truth and Faith and Life he discovers in this world today.

Therefore, while a few gifted scientists are building highways from the edge of the earth, the Church is offering everyone opportunity to probe the spiritual depths which shall determine our destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

More Men Teachers

There's plenty being said these days about women moving into occupations heretofore dominated by men. But the U.S. Office of Education has found one area where the reverse is true.

Its latest report on teacher personnel says men teachers now outnumber women teachers for the first time since the public school system was founded.

This statistic covers only the secondary schools of the nation. Primary and elementary grades are still largely in the hands of women. But the secondary swing is indicative of a healthy trend.

Not that women haven't done a magnificent job, we hasten to say. But the entrance of more and more men into the field of education is bound to bring an upgrading of salary and professional status. It will mean fewer women with an eye on matrimony and more teachers dedicated to a life-long career in education.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Strengthen The PIDA

Pennsylvania's Industrial Development Authority has been an effective agency in combatting industrial decline. At the end of its first four years of operation, last July, it could point to 127 PIDA-assisted projects providing 24,413 new factory jobs in 63 Pennsylvania communities and 40 counties.

Using a revolving loan fund appropriated by the Legislature, the PIDA made 127 loan commitments totaling $16,078,303 on a diversification of new plants and plant expansions costing $51,062,464. But for its efforts, the State's unemployment problem would be even more severe.

When the Legislature meets in January, there will be a move to provide more funds for the industrial development program. In view of rising unemployment and a business decline, it is most encouraging to learn that there is broad bipartisan support for this proposal.

Several Republican legislators have expressed willingness to join the Democrats in providing funds for the PIDA. As one of them put it, "We are obligated to do everything we can without relying on the Federal Government."

We agree with that 100 per cent. At a time when a committee at the national level is studying ways to help the nation's areas of chronic unemployment (of which Pennsylvania has more than its share), state and local officials and business leaders should be making parallel attempts to help.

It seems fairly certain, based on past legislative proposals, that any Federal aid would be tied, in part at least, to state and local efforts at self-help. But even if Federal aid should fail to materialize—as at the last two sessions of Congress—Pennsylvania and the local communities should be prepared to move with a full head of steam.

The PIDA, established as an agency of the Commerce Department during the Leader Administration in 1955, may well provide a partial pattern for a program of Federal aid. It should be strengthened no matter what the Congress does.

The Pennsylvania Story

Figure Questioned

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — Eyebrows of veteran Capital City newsmen went up this week in somewhat amusement when the State Farm Show Commission announced that attendance for the big opening day Monday at 140,000 was some 15,000 short of last year's opening day crowd — and "under expectations."

What caused the amusement among newsmen who have been covering the great agricultural exposition for years is that usually the attendance figures for the opening day fairly consistently have gone up and up and up each year (although how they actually count noses is still somewhat of a mystery to most) and a concession that attendance has "dropped off" is most unusual in the case of such promotional events, especially one tied in with a governmental function!

The only comment we have to offer is that while official figures show attendance falling off on the opening day — standing room at the giant farm show building seemed to be at more of a premium this year than ever before and opening day vehicular traffic (if delays enroute can be considered as one of the factors!) appeared heavier than ever.

For "Intellectuals" Only! — If you have a college degree, better pull the drapes on the windows henceforth before peering at your TV tube and enjoying that luxury of running to the snack bar during commercial breaks.

Writing in the current issue of the Pennsylvania Mental Health "Bulletin," PMH Information Consultant Pierre C. Fraley had this to say in discussing PMH's "policy and program" regarding public information:

"Persons who do not finish high school tend to turn to television as their prime source of information. This means that PMH, which is interested in both the class and mass audience, should not concentrate on newspaper publicity alone but attempt to convey information over TV, radio and magazines."

To PMH's "information consultant" Fraley we have this sad confession to offer: we must be ignorant, our battered college degree notwithstanding . . . For vaudeville and entertainment, although at times painfully ludicrous, you just can't beat contemporary TV — even when their public information or "news" programs are simply rehashes of what already has appeared in print in newspapers!

Reapportionment Hassle—One of the most troublesome tasks facing Pennsylvania's 1961 Legislature will be redistricting the Keystone State for members of the State House of Representatives and State Senate . . . The Senate has not been redistricted since the census of 1930, the House since 1933, although the State Constitution requires that each be reapportioned after each ten-year census . . . No penalty is provided.

Democrats in the Keystone State have complained bitterly over the years that the reason there has not been "adequate and proper" reapportionment has been because Republicans who controlled both legislative houses did not want to lose their existing strong areas . . . Well, it looks as though Senate Republicans this year may go along with a Senate reapportionment bill and even introduce one themselves which, according to one top Senate GOP leader would provide for redistricting the eight senatorial districts in Philadelphia — all held by Democrats!

Sign of the Times — Until comparatively recently, prisoners in Pennsylvania's state prisons provided the labor for the manufacture of virtually all of Pennsylvania's licenses and tags . . . The state bought the material . . . On the State Auditor General's list of invoices to be processed for payment the other day was this item: $1215 to the Reymann Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia for "1960 hunting licenses and tags."

Markin Time — The present and the past combine. The old songs and the new are sung. So growing old is very fine. If outlook and uplook are young.

off The Record

If you want a Secret Service man to help keep away troubles we suggest you get in contact with Tom Gorman of Tobyhanna.

Gorman, an employee at Tobyhanna Signal Depot, guarded Harry S. Truman when the Missouri was President of the United States.

Tom, a person who fears no trouble, implicated his job was comparatively easy. However, after a little probing, Gorman revealed the hazards of the position.

Tom can be seen nightly at Mrs. Blair's Guest House. Incidentally, he held sway at the Blair House in Washington, D.C. during Truman's administration.

Gorman also guarded the home of Truman in Independence, Mo.

It was great watching the firemen of Coolbaugh Twp. and Mt. Pocono perform duties beyond the call of duty at the fire at Tobyhanna the other night.

The coordinated way things were done would make any big fire department take notice.

Also the efficiency of the Tobyhanna Depot in providing aid to the families that were left homeless was one of the more heart warming situations to start off the new year.

The two former game wardens of the area have words of wisdom for all.

However, some of the sentences are not for publication. But they are enjoyable no matter how you take it.

Some people suggest that this column take more definite positions. Thus be it: We're for Motherhood, Against Sin and for Birth Control. We also think it would be better if fewer students went to college and specialized instead in the so-called manual arts. We are also in favor of more sons supporting their fathers and opposed to most of the tenants of the American Medical Association (looks like a quiet year.)

This column thinks that desegregation is off on the wrong foot and it will take great deeds by men of good will to get it back on the track. We think Sunday shouldn't be a general shopping day and we're against most forms of book, magazine and movie censorship. We also wonder if undercover gambling isn't worse than legal gambling, particularly since human nature is what it is.

A rich man is one who isn't afraid to ask the clerk to show him something cheaper.

Reports From Congress

Kennedy Promises

By Congressional Quarterly
Washington — During the election campaign, President-elect John F. Kennedy made 220 specific statements of policy which he implicitly or explicitly promised to carry out if elected.

From his acceptance speech July 15, 1960 to the eve of his election, Nov. 7, the transcripts of all of his speeches and of the prepared texts were analyzed by Congressional Quarterly. Also included were press conferences, TV debates and public letters which occurred during the campaign.

In every field from national security to civil rights, Kennedy made specific promises. Each of the 220 commitments is recorded by CQ in his own words.

Priorities — CQ found that the President-elect made seven items matters of "priority." They are:

1. "If I am elected I will give the farm problem top priority in the opening weeks of my Administration" Lacrosse, Wis., Oct. 23.

2. "I have pledged myself and my Party to the immediate enactment of a program of medical care for the aged through Social Security . . . And if I am elected President next Tuesday that pledge will not be filed away with old and unmet campaign promises — it will be at the very top of my agenda for action. For I intend to submit such a program to Congress within 30 days after I take of-ice," Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 13. . . . one of the first items on the Democratic agenda in 1961 is the passage of an adequate bill for school construction." Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2

4. "Our Democratic platform specifically states that we must remove the distinction between native-born and naturalized citizens . . . I shall insist that this pledge be given high priority." Hynnis, Mass., Aug. 6.

5. "The next President must promptly send to Congress a special message requesting the funds and authority necessary to give us a nuclear retaliatory power second to none." Washington, D.C., Sept. 20.

6. "I would convene a working conference of public and private experts in January to work out an African educational system." Washington, D.C., Sept. 21.

7. "During your primary I pledged that within 60 days of my election I would send to the Congress a complete program to restore and revive the economy of West Virginia . . . and all other neglected areas of our country. Today, I reaffirm that pledge." Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 19.

New Committees — In 12 of his promises, Kennedy proposed the establishment of new committees, conferences and agencies, such as:

1. "There is a need for a second International Conference on Food and Agriculture, similar to the one held at Hot Springs, Va., under the leadership of President Roosevelt." Pamphlet, Agricultural Policy for the New Frontier.

"I propose the establishment of an educational extension service within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare." Los Angeles, Nov. 2.

"We should establish a multilateral development loan fund — a fund directed by Western and African nations . . ." Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 8.

"We will establish a Council of Resources and Conservation Advisors in the Office of the President . . ." Billings, Mont., Sept. 22.

Foreign Policy — Kennedy appointees in the field of foreign affairs have their work cut out for them. The President-elect made 54 specific promises in this field. Among them:

" . . . we must embark on a bold and imaginative new program for the development of Africa." . . . we must help provide the development capital which can transform the resources of Africa . . . into a higher standard of living for the African people." Bowling Green, Oct. 8.

"The United States must meet its commitments in Berlin." Third radio-TV debate, Oct. 13.

"We must promptly initiate a major broadcast program for Cuba." . . . we must attempt to strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile, and in Cuba itself." State-ment, Oct. 21.

" . . . we must help provide the funds — the long-term development loans — essential to a growing economy (in Latin America)." "We must act to stabilize the prices of the principal commodity exports of Latin America." "We must encourage aid and programs of land reform." Tampa, Fla., Oct. 18.

" . . . we must strengthen the economic and cultural ties between Poland and the United States — by expanding reciprocal trade, tourism, and information services. We can encourage the investment of American capital and technology." Chicago, Oct. 1.

" . . . I propose . . . a 'peace corps' of talented young men willing and able to serve their country in this fashion for three years as an alternative to peacetime selective service . . ." San Francisco, Nov. 2.

Welfare — In matters affecting labor and welfare, Mr. Kennedy also had much to suggest. For example:

" . . . the government must offer technical and cultural ties between Poland and the United States — by expanding reciprocal trade, tourism, and information services. We can encourage the investment of American capital and technology." Chicago, Oct. 1.

" . . . we must revise our outmoded unemployment compensation laws to allow men to receive full benefit payments while they are engaged in retraining programs." Flint, Mich., Sept. 5.

"I have pledged myself and my party to the immediate enactment of a program of medical care for the aged through Social Security . . ." Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 1.

In addition to federal leadership to control and prevent juvenile delinquency, we must have provision for Day Care Centers for children whose mothers are unavailable during the day." Letter sent Oct. 18.

" . . . I propose the enactment of a student loan insurance act . . ." Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2

" . . . we must provide federal grants for the construction, expansion, and modernization of medical schools, dental schools, and schools of public health." Warm Springs, Ga., Oct. 10.

And there's one man who won't like one implied promise made by Mr. Kennedy in his first radio-TV debate Sept. 26. — "I am not satisfied when I see men like Jimmy Hoffa, in charge of the largest union in the United States, still free."

As for accepting gifts which are showered on every President Mr. Kennedy has this to say: " . . . all gifts which cannot appropriately be refused . . . shall immediately be assigned to the Smithsonian Institution or other federal agencies for historical, scientific or welfare uses. The President must set an example." Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 17.

And his intention to maintain ties with his predecessor is specific:

"The next President of the United States, whoever he is, should use the talents of President Eisenhower in the area of world peace." Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 14.

Inside You And Yours

Dodge Syndrome

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.
Would-be Wyatt Earps and Matt Dillons are now shooting it out with paper targets and losing! At hospitals their wounds are tagged the "Dodge City syndrome."

Their bullet-created thighs, shattered knees and bullet-pierced feet are also called the "quick draw syndrome." It should have been called the "slow draw syndrome." These youngsters are shot because they're too slow on the draw.

Most belong to western-style gun clubs where adolescent vigilantes fire at paper targets, a sport encouraged to offset juvenile delinquency. Even the Police Athletic League sponsors rifle competition.

But when target practice goes western, the constitution and by-laws are amended according to Zane Grey's rules of order.

Rifles Replaced
Pistols, preferably sixguns, replace rifles. And every gun-slinger wears a western-style gun belt with its holster low on the hip.

On the firing line he stands tense, feet apart and knees slightly bent. His shooting hand dangles, poised ready to whip out his sixgun and fire if his opponent tries to draw!

Doctors wonder whether gun-slinging would seem so glamorous if TV closeups pictured — in living color — the gory wounds which even Jim Hardy suffers from time to time. Meanwhile, these imaginary Paladins continue to shoot themselves into the Dodge City syndrome.

Where was all this quick-draw drama reported? Why, in the WESTERN Journal of Surgery—where else?

Now comes the real expensive spread, the one being turned down to make a hospital bed ready for this new victim of the Dodge City syndrome. Images of lonely Gary Cooper, fighting off outlaws with only Princess Grace to help, fade when our hero faces the business end of hypodermic needles which fire shot after shot.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Jumping Jupiter

Now along comes a very sure person, Robert Welch, of The John Birch Society of Massachusetts, who wishes to impeach Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States.

One may disagree with, dislike, oppose Earl Warren, but impeachment is another matter. It involves a bill of particulars, specific, clear-cut, subject to evidence and analysis. Welch does not provide that. He says:

" . . . we believe that the impeachment of Warren would dramatize and crystallize the whole basic question of whether the United States remains an independent republic, or gradually becomes transformed into a province of the world-wide Soviet system."

But this is not the issue at all. This is a private opinion, not a fact. What is necessary is to indict Earl Warren for high crimes and misdemeanors that will stand up in a trial. Thus far, only one President of the United States has been impeached, and unsuccessfully, and no Chief Justice of the United States has been impeached.

That does not mean that none ever should be. It does, however, mean that this is not a simple process for indicating opposition. Under our system, it is extremely difficult. Robert Welch thinks otherwise:

"We further believe that it is entirely possible to bring about that impeachment in the present House of Representatives through insistent enough demand by the American people, if even one-half of the known present conservative leaders will give their energetic support to this undertaking . . ."

Apparently, Welch has no conception of the procedure involved in an impeachment. The Constitution makes provision for it in Article 1, Section 2, Clause 5, which reads: "The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment."

And in Article 1, Section 3, Clause 6, which reads: "The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present."

Certainly in the present composition of our Congress, there is no possibility that the time will be allotted by the leadership of either party for such an impeachment. For what would have to be proved?

The indictment could not show that the Chief Justice's views were unpleasant, for there are eight other Justices who could have voted him down. It would have to be shown that he was corrupt, that he accepted bribes, that he was subversive, that his conduct was oprobrious to the United States and the Court.

No matter what can be said of Earl Warren, it cannot be said that he has been corrupt, which means accepting bribes, or that he has been subversive, which means, in this context, that he is engaged in transactions to damage the United States in the interest of a foreign foe. No bill of particulars can be brought forth to prove such charges. Therefore to talk of impeachment is nonsense.

I call attention to this not because it is of any significance of itself but because conservatives need to use common sense in their agitation.

There are things to be said and to be done but these need to be focused on ideas not on impractical proposals to impeach the Chief Justice because there is disagreement about his views or to discover an invisible government which has controlled all the administrations from Herbert Hoover to John Kennedy. It is nonsense. Why not impeach the entire Court and get over and done with it?

The conservatives of this country are numerous but not always coherent. Unless they find intelligent leadership that relates what they do and say to the realities of American life, they will make no greater progress in the new Democratic Administration than the old Eisenhower Administration. American conservatives need a program and less talk.

One of the first points of a conservative program must be that the United States cannot tolerate the cost of unemployment or racial or creedal battles while this country is engaged in a life-struggle against the Soviet Universal State.

And the one absolute essential is that the American dollar should again become hard money, well secured and safe. The conservatives need to decide whether they prefer to fight against Communism or against each other.

Tom Waring Leaves $8,000 For Athletes

THOMAS L. Waring left $8,000 to provide $100 annual grants to athletes with scholastic ability at the two local high schools, probate of his will yesterday showed.

Waring, a resident of Shawnee-on-Deleware, had long been interested in athletics. He died Dec. 29 at the age of 58.

The money will be held in trust by the Keystone Trust Co. and will be known as the Tom L. Waring Trust Fund.

The income from the trust will be used to provide $100 annually for "the athlete who attains the highest scholastic average" in Stroud Union and East Stroudsburg Area Joint High Schools.

May Increase

The will stipulates that if the income from the investments of the trust accumulates to where more than $100 is available to each athlete, the trustee, in its discretion, may increase each of the awards.

Waring left the remainder of his estate, listed as of undetermined value, to a relative.

Van Buskirk Services Held

Interment was in Sand Hill Cemetery.

Palbearers were Theodore Van Buskirk, Marvin Van Buskirk, Melvin Van Buskirk, Ralph Hayes, Robert Roberts and Joseph Campfield.

Postmaster Cites Bilking Process

THE American public will be bilked of more than $100 million dollars during 1961 through mail fraud and, as in years past residents of Monroe County will contribute to that total.

This is the warning issued yesterday by Postmaster Fred H. Rhodes in an attempt to alert the city's residents against the phony health cure peddlers, money order and check forgers and other swindlers who prey on the innocent and the gullible through the mails.

Postmaster Rhodes said that according to statistics compiled by the U.S. Postal Inspection Service of the Post Office Department, the scope and variety of fraudulent schemes have progressed "from the obvious quick-profit gimmicks to complex multi-million dollar promotions not easily recognized." The target for such mail-fraud swindles, warns Rhodes, is "you."

In calling attention to the racketeers who bilk the public—and urging increased vigilance by all possible victims—Postmaster Rhodes cited "Look Out For Larceny in Your Mailbox" in the January issue of the Reader's Digest as "dramatically presenting the methods of con-by-mail artists."

The article tells of the Museum of the U.S. Postal Inspection Service in the Post Office Department Building, Washington, D.C., which houses some of the prize exhibits that have floored the unsuspecting of millions of dollars through the years. "It describes methods used by swindlers and protective steps that can be taken by Americans who want to keep their mail safe—and clean," said Rhodes.

"Among the protections against larceny is one of the most logical yet overlooked steps of all," said Postmaster Rhodes. "Any person who is suspicious of anything he receives through the mail should immediately contact his postmaster. This is the finest protection of all."

Other Hints

Other hints in the article endorsed by Postmaster Rhodes, are these: Have a mailbox with a formidable lock; don't ever send money for any sort of miraculous—sounding medical nostrum; check attractive sounding business offers, received in the mail from strangers, with your banker or lawyer.

"Most important," says Postmaster Rhodes, "take whatever phony-looking documents you receive through the mail—with the envelopes—to your postmaster. If you do, you may save yourself—and countless others—from being victimized."

Taxpayers Referred To '59 Guide

FEDERAL INCOME taxpayers should find it helpful to use their 1959 returns as a guide in preparing their 1960 forms, director R. P. Brownell of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service advised yesterday.

"There is little change in the forms normally used by most taxpayers except for a few points of clarification and generally improved typography," Brownell said.

"Taxpayers referring to last year's return, while working with the 1960 forms and instruction booklets, should be able to come up with the right answers without too much difficulty. They can probably do a better job than they think."

"Where new circumstances have developed and present new problems, we're happy to help and a telephone call will probably clear up the trouble. It usually isn't necessary to visit our offices, although help is of course available there to those who have special and complex problems," he added.

State Communities Get New Incentives

$13,000 Settlement In Case

PENNSYLVANIA communities were offered renewed incentives to improve their economy and living conditions with an announcement yesterday by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce that the annual $20,000 Pennsylvania Community Development Contest will be continued in 1961.

Official announcements of the 1961 contest—seventh in an annual series sponsored by the state business organization and 13 co-sponsoring agencies—have been mailed to local chambers of commerce, service clubs and community officials throughout the state.

Communities have until April 1, 1961, to send their official entry blanks to the State Chamber in Harrisburg, listing specific community-betterment projects they are undertaking. Report books showing progress made on these projects throughout 1961 must be submitted by March 1, 1962.

Although official prizes for 1961 will again total $20,000, divided among 35 communities in five population classes, the actual winnings will be much greater. Winners in the 1959 contest collected an additional $15,600 beyond the official prizes through matching awards offered by business concerns in their areas. Total cash awards, including matching prizes, in the first five years of the contest amounted to $133,550.

"The 1961 contest holds special significance, because of the state's current high unemployment and slack business conditions," said Dwight M. Ludington, 1961 contest chairman. "The projects that win prizes for a community in this contest also make the community more attractive as a site for new and expanded business and industry." Ludington is public relations director of the Portland Cement Association, a contest co-sponsor. The 1960 contest chairman was Ralph I. Wood, of Bell Telephone Company.

Population Classes

As in past contests, communities will compete in five separate population classes, with seven cash awards in each class amounting to $1500, $1000, $500, $400, $300, $200 and $100. Thus communities of all sizes have an opportunity to win identical awards.

The contest sponsors for 1961 include one newcomer, the Pennsylvania Home Builders Association. The other sponsors are: AAA-Pennsylvania Motor Federation, Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania Chain Store Council, Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, Pennsylvania Electric Association, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Federation, Pennsylvania Gas Association, Pennsylvania Independent Telephone Association, Pennsylvania Truck Association, Pennsylvania Natural Gas Men's Association, Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, Portland Cement Association, and the Society of Industrial Realtors.

Director's Concern Noted

"A SCHOOL director's first concern is with the children whose future he serves," stated Earl Groner, superintendent of Stroud Union School District at the elementary Curriculum Study Group meeting Wednesday morning.

During the discussion of school district organization, Groner explained the organization and function of a union district as it is set up under the Pennsylvania School Code, which regulates all school policies in the Commonwealth.

The school district has a great deal of power and the control rests with the board.

"The board has tremendous influence on taxation, personnel, curriculum and the quality rating of individual schools," Groner added.

Union District
There is a conglomeration of types of organizations set up for the administration of schools. The union district is generally considered the most efficient way to bring the benefits of the best in education to the greatest number of children.

Classification of districts is based on population ranging from first to fourth class, covering areas from 1,500 population to less than 5,000.

Formation of a union district depends on action from individual school boards, then court procedure and finally on the vote of the electorate. The state adds financial incentive, provided the school is maintained at top standards established by the State Department of Public Instruction. Classifications include: "A" class, meet every requirement; "B" class, items checked for improved; "C" class, reimbursement may be forfeited. Stroud Union is included under the "A" classification.

Conversely, a loosely organized attempt to consolidate is served by a jointure, but the incentive is $300 less per unit than for a district.

County Program
The county office is separate from Stroud Union which is an independent unit. Groner works directly with the state department, not through the county office.

Stroud Union started with a 17 man board with representatives from Stroud Township, Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg. In 1958, Hamilton joined the district. The district functions as a unit, rather than the individual areas bargaining for control, as control is in the hands of the school board.

Future Plans
The Governor's Committee is recommending to the Council of Education, a merger of districts based on population which would consolidate all of the county, and improve education.

Every realm of endeavor in the district is under the direction of Groner, and recommendations have been made to the county board concerning the institution of supplementary vocational education which only the county board has the authority to act upon.

The Wyckoff Shopper

"the friendly store"

A.B. Wyckoff

STROUDSBURG, PA.

Know what this is? Another "opportunity day" to shop our January White Sale!

One of my recent expenditures was approximately 7.00 for some fourteen or more yards of Kwik-Kover from our floor covering department. Kwik Kover is a plastic contact covering that can be wiped with a damp rag . . . can be used on almost any type surface . . . lasts indefinitely . . . and solves ever so many problems once furniture begins showing wear and tear. Some of the girls here at Wyckoff's tell me they use Kwik-Kover in bureau drawers . . . on closet shelves . . . behind their stoves, where grease might spot the wall . . . and Ed Somers at WVPO told me that he and Lucy once used the simulated blonde mahogany to cover the marred veneer of an old mahogany TV set.

"How did it wear?" I wanted to know. "Well," he said—"and was so successful a job it actually fooled many visitors, who believed it to be a blonde wood cabinet until they examined it closely."

My own problem was to cover a four-panel folding screen to be used between the door and a Hollywood bed. Since the bed will be in a den with black furniture trimmed in brass, I selected black Kwik Kover with gold fleur de lis patterns and gold metallic adhesive braid.

I admit I had qualms about my ability to use my purchases. I'm certainly not skilled in this type of work, and neither is my friend, Marion Ace, who offered her assistance. But we are justly proud of the results. Since the screen panels were 16 inches wide and the Kwik Kover was 17, it was easy to strip off the plain brown paper backing, and attach the plastic to the screen. All one does is smooth it out with the flat of the hand . . . turn it down at the edge, and when both sides are covered, go around the edge with the braid.

Marion and I are still preening over our accomplishment. But my son, who unhinged the panels and sandpapered a few, takes the credit. This is typically male—yet even at that it's nice to have a man around the house!

One of the nicest compliments ever paid me came from a little lady who tells me she's been listening to our Wyckoff broadcasts, "since the very first day you went on the air with Mr. Wyckoff." Through the years, she has come to regard our daily fifteen minutes together as a private conversation, she admits, and now has developed the habit of talking back to me.

"Whenever you ask a question, I answer you right out loud," she says, adding a bit shamefacedly, "but don't tell my relatives—they'll think I'm feeble-minded."

The other morning when I arrived at the studio a bit late, and panting, and said, "I'm very sorry to be late, but I was working with someone on a subject that interested me very much and lost track of time," she tells me she responded with a hearty, "Oh, please don't apologize. That's quite all right." This she explains by saying, "I guess it's because, when you reach my age, many of your friends are gone. There's no one dropping in to see you, and you get lonely. So I turn my radio dial in the morning and you come in."

If anyone ever received a compliment nicer than that, I'd like to know . . . certainly it is the nicest I have ever received.

THANK YOU . . . Jane Guillot Notz, for your friendly note and lovely poem from Sunny Florida. Say hello to Lorraine for us! . . . Unsigned, for the packet of beautiful Madonnas—I appreciate them . . . to the Rinslands (formerly of town) for their newspapers from Palm Beach—read them cover to cover, including the ads, and enjoyed them . . . to Charles Wetterau, now of Westfield, N.J., for the letter and clipping. I have heard Rev. Horn and seen his collection, and it is an excellent one . . . and to U.L. (is that REALLY your first name? Very unusual and pretty!) for the magazine. You were kind to think of me and to say the nice things you did about our store.

S.U. Gets 4 In Final

Slaters Stop Mountaineers With Help Of Short 4th

SLATINGTON — Stroud Union High School managed only four points in the final period as it dropped a 60-42 Lehigh Valley League game to Slatington last night.

The Mountaineers never led the Slaters. They pulled ahead by 10 points until the final minute of the third period. Then they couldn't stop Slatington's fast break offense and off and on full-court press.

It was the sixth loss for the Cavaliers, who have three wins. The Mounties are 1-3 in league play.

Led Briefly

Stroud Union led briefly early in the game but its biggest lead was only four points, 4-0 and 6-2. Slatington pulled in front near the end of the first period and led 13-11 after one quarter. The Slaters tacked five more points onto the lead at the half and after three quarters led by 11.

In the final eight minutes, Slatington scored 20 points, connecting on almost every trip down the floor while Stroud Union had trouble getting a shot off and managed on four points, on field goals by Mike McMahon and John Baylor.

Baylor High

Baylor was the leading scorer for the Mounties with 11, while McMahon and John Taylor had nine each. Don Osmer hit for eight.

Doug Farber led Slatington with 19. W. O. Jones added 17 and Ron Jones scored 14. The Slaters used nine players and they all scored.

Neither team had much success from the foul line. Stroud Union hit on eight of 15 free throws and Slatington connected on nine of 17. But the Slaters tossed in 30 field goals and the Mounties could account for only 17.

Slatington won the junior varsity game 48-22.

American Grid League May Expand But Not In 1961

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League Friday paved the way for a 1962 expansion program.

After reflecting any idea of adding new teams this year, the eight club presidents approved a by-laws change to make expansion easier. Votes by only six clubs now are needed for expansion. Until Friday the by-laws had required unanimous consent.

Any 1962 additions to the year-old league would be made before next December.

"It was agreed that if we do expand we would do so before the next draft," said Commissioner Joe Foss. "We have one formal and three informal applications on hand. The club owners instructed their expansion committee to investigate the applications with an eye toward 1962."

No Identification
Foss declined to identify the applicants and the cities involved. He had said Thursday night, however, the one formal application involved a request for a franchise in any one of three cities.

Dates for the 1961 draft have not been set but Foss indicated the AFL hopes again to get a jump on the National Football League. Last year the AFL began a telephone draft in late November and began its formal draft Dec. 6. The NFL did not start its draft until Dec. 27. Foss confirmed reports he conferred in Pittsburgh earlier this week with NCAA representatives on NCAA's request the AFL hold its annual draft as late as possible.

"I understand similar discussions also have been held with the NFL," he said. "I had very sincere discussions with the NCAA group. We did not come to any agreement. We did not set a date for further discussions but it was agreed a committee from the coaches association also would participate in the next meeting."

Pocono Turkeys Steal Coach Convention

ONE OF THE biggest hits at the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting in Pittsburgh this week were turkeys—Hickory Valley's champagne birds.

At two of the largest receptions of the four-day gathering, all the food served came from Hickory Valley, including turkey, ham, cheese, bacon and other smoked meats. The food was shipped from Stroudsburg especially for the coaches gathering.

After a few drinks most of the football heads were calling the delicacies "that good food from the Poconos."

Only four of the 14 Pennsylvania State College Conference teams were represented at the meeting. East Stroudsburg, West Chester, Kutztown and Indiana. East Stroudsburg's delegation of Jack Gregory, Charles Reese and George Ockershausen was the largest of the PSCC schools.

And Marty Baldwin of East Stroudsburg, represented Olympic Reconditioning. Baldwin is the clinic director for the eight AFCA sponsored Coach of the Year Clinics.

Closed Circuit TV May Free Spotter

A New York firm, Stadium Network System, has developed a closed circuit television system that may be able to replace the coach who sits in the press box and relays offensive and defensive information to the bench.

The camera unit is self contained, weighs only 16 pounds and is operated by house current. With the TV set-up, the coach can return to the bench and use a manager to operate the camera. The whole set-up, including monitor, sells for less than $1,000.

Closed circuit TV is gaining wide use at sporting events, televising the action to overflow crowds in adjacent areas.

At the recent Penn State-Lehigh wrestling match some 1,500 people watched the action on closed circuit TV because the gymnasium could not hold all the crowd.

Bob Kennedy Talks About Harlow

Bob Kennedy, the new Attorney General, in his address to the Coach of the Year banquet, recalled some of his football experiences at Harvard under Dick Harlow.

"Dick wasn't a tough coach to please, said Kennedy, a defensive end. "All he asked me to do was to stop all sweeps, block the offensive hole, protect against screen passers, rush the passer and drop back on all long passes."

Bob Waldorf, brother of California coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, says that Harlow, who suffered two heart attacks last Summer, has regained some of his speech and can move about well enough to get in and out of a car.

"He came out to practice several times," said Waldorf, football coach at Western Maryland in Westminster, Harlow's winter home. He lives in LaAnna, Wayne County, during the Summer.

Chargers Have Keen Interest In Becker

Al Locasle, personnel director of the Los Angeles Chargers says that his team is definitely interested in East Stroudsburg State College end Ed Becker.

"We think Becker can make the grade," says Locasle, "and if we have the opportunity will probably draft him next year."

Becker was eligible for the draft this year because he is a transfer student from the University of Maryland. His class at Maryland graduated in June.

"We thought about drafting Becker this year," Locasle said "but we felt since he had another year in college we would use our draft choice for a boy that could play for us next year."

Top New York Schools

Warriors Score Double Home Wrestling Victory

EAST STROUDSBURG State College scored a double wrestling win at Normal Hill last night.

The varsity dumped Oswego (NY) State College 21-9 and the junior varsity topped Orange County Community College, also of New York, 18-15.

Two of the varsity wins came by forfeits, as Oswego is not allowed to use freshmen and has only first year men at two weights. However, the freshman did wrestle exhibition bouts, losing both of them.

Nickischer Wins
George Kayal scored the only East Stroudsburg varsity pin. The speedy 123-pounder used a head scissors to pin Steve Yelon in 2:18 of the opening bout. It was the second win for the undefeated freshman.

Ken Nickischer, the only other unbeaten Warrior, made it five in a row. He jumped up one weight class to 130 pounds, however. Nickischer won by forfeit but scored a 5-4 decision over Jerry LaMonica in an exhibition scrap.

Stan Woods earned the Warriors third straight victory. Woods, who usually accounts for the team's most exciting bouts, scored a reversal with only 15 seconds to decision Tom Santavirta 7-6 in the 137 pound scrap.

A forfeit in the 147 pound class gave East Stroudsburg the first four matches in the exhibition. In the exhibition, Gary Williamson 8-4. Oswego scored decision wins in the next three weight classes before a J.N. Bellevue decided Jim Frauli 7-5 in the heavyweight finale.

Pin To Win
It took a pin by unbeaten heavyweight Ron Matakits for the Warriors to win the JV match. Matakits, who has won all his bouts by pins, used a half nelson and inside crotch to dump 280-pound Jim Leetch.

Leetch injured his knee shortly before the pin but decided to continue rather than forfeit.

The varsity record is now 3-2 and the JV's have a 3-1 mark. Warrior coach Jim Reed decided after the matches to realign his varsity line-up.

Kayal will work at 123 and Nickischer at 130. Matakits, who outweighs Bellevue by about 20 pounds will get the varsity heavyweight spot and Bellevue will drop down a weight bracket to 177.

Kane Paces Cavaliers

Hilliers Slam Eastburg 80-44 To Hold First

FOUNTAINHILL, held in check for five and a half minutes, exploded in the late stages of the first quarter and went to smash East Stroudsburg High School 80-44 at East Stroudsburg Friday night.

It was the 10th straight loss for the winless Cavaliers, seven of them in the Lehigh-Northampton League. It was Fountainhill's 12th win in 15 games and keeps the Hilliers in a first place tie in the L-N loop with Parkland.

It was almost a two-man show for Fountainhill, which started an all-senior team. Ed Novak and Frank Arthofer outscored the Cavaliers by themselves, with 47 points, Novak had 28 and Arthofer added 19.

Kane Gets 17

Glenn Kane was high for East Stroudsburg with 17. He collected seven field goals and three of the Cavaliers four free throws. Harold Myers was the only other Cavalier to hit on a free throw and it was Myers' only score.

East Stroudsburg had 15 foul shot attempts but hit on only four, while Fountainhill cashed in on 16 of 27 free throws.

The Cavaliers never led but for almost six minutes of the first period managed to stay within four points of the Hilliers.

Big Spurt

Then with 2:30 left in the period, Fountainhill pumped in eight points to pull away from an 8-4 count. East Stroudsburg collected only two more points in the period and at the end of the first quarter Fountainhill was comfortably in front 16-6.

The Hilliers built a 23 - point halftime lead and upped it to 33 in the final period. The Fountainhill reserves took over in the last period and East Stroudsburg managed 16 points.

Fountainhill also won the junior varsity game, 65-32.

Pleasant Valley Stays Alive

Barrett Clinches Tie For Pocono 1st Half Laurels

BARRETT clinched a tie for the first half crown, Pleasant Valley kept its title hopes alive and Coolbaugh dropped its fourth straight game in Pocono Mountain Scholastic Basketball action last night.

On the basis of scores, it went this way: Barrett 78, Tobyhanna Twp. 45; Pleasant Valley 62, Coolbaugh 45 and Delaware Valley 56, Pocono Twp. 54.

two years, opened a 12-point spread at the end of the first period on the way to its fourth straight win.

Barrett put all five of its starters in double figures with John Ryan leading the parade with 17. Jerry Enders and A. J. Bittner added 16 each and Norb Ryan collected 10.

Control Boards

Enders and Young controlled both backboards, splitting 40 rebounds. Enders had 21 and Young 19.

John Murphy was the high man in the game with 18 on nine field goals and Jim Frank had 12.

Barrett plays Pleasant Valley next Friday in the final game of the first half. If Barrett wins, its all over but a Pleasant Valley win would force a playoff. Pleasant Valley has lost one, to Delaware Valley.

Fred Fulmer scored 21 points to lead the Bears JV win, 44-31.

The Bears of Pleasant Valley, finally won a game in their new gymnasium. They had dropped their first three starts there.

Borger Gets 30

Bill Borger dumped in 30 points to lead the Bears, who have not won a game outside of league competition. Jim Fritz added 13 and Ed Romasavage 11.

Borger hit 12 field goals and added six of the Bears 10 foul shots.

Bob Smallwood and Glenn Dailey, who have carried most of the Coolbaugh scoring punch this year, did it again. Smallwood scored 17 and Dailey added 11 for the winless Coolbaugh club.

Coolbaugh must win next week

Gunderson Enters Florida Golf

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Joe Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., entered the national mixed foursome golf tourney Thursday and thus assured that for the first time ever both the women's and men's amateur champions will compete in this meet.

The mixed foursome play will be held over the Lagorce Club, Jan. 31-Feb. 4. Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., the men's amateur champ, entered earlier.

Miss Gunderson will play with Don Carner of Providence, R.I., and Beman will partner Mrs. Anne Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa.

Banks Signs Cub Contract

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' slugging shortstop, Thursday signed his 1961 contract for an estimated $35,000.

Banks, the Cubs' all-time home run leader whose 269 home runs are more than any other shortstop in major league history, was given an increase over his 1960 contract.

to gain a tie for fifth place. But at the same time Pocono must drop its game with Tobyhanna Twp. If Coolbaugh is to escape the cellar, Coolbaugh is at home against Delaware Valley next week.

Foul Shots Hurt
Pocono might have clinched fifth place last night, if it had not been for a bad night from the foul line.

Coach Harry Werkheiser's team hit only eight of 24 tries from the foul line, but home-standing Delaware was no better, bagging four of 12 chances.

Delaware Valley, down by three at the end of the third period outscored Pocono 18-13 in the final period for the win.

John Duffy led the winners with 13 points and John Marinicco and Tom Crelin added 11 each.

Besecker had 13 and Peter Ask 12 for Pocono, which led 28-25 at the half.

Vivian Vance Seen In 'Candid Camera'

VIVIAN VANCE (Ethel Mertz of "I Love Lucy" fame) is featured in a candid film vignette to be introduced by host Arthur Godfrey on "Candid Camera" Sunday (CBS Television Network, 10:10-10:30 P.M.).

In one sequence of the vignette Miss Vance is seen as a salesgirl in a hosiery shop trying to sell a customer "seconds." In the other, she turns up in a bakery as a customer who gets slightly piqued on samples of rum cake.

Other candid film sequences include a study of the way children eat ice cream pops; also an unusual vignette consisting of close-ups of human eyes and attempts to guess the type of person they fit before the camera pulls back to reveal the individual.

Civil War Episode Shown In 'Americans'

A FAMILY is split asunder by the opening guns of the Civil War, and brother is pitted against brother on the field of battle, in "Harpers Ferry, 1861," premiere episode of "The Americans" on the NBC-TV Network Monday (7:30-8:30 p.m.).

Darryl Hickman and Dick Davalos—respectively as Ben and Jeff Canfield, brothers who find themselves in violent disagreement when Virginia secedes from the Union—are regular stars of "The Americans." Guest stars for the opening episode include John McIntire as their father, tortured by the prospect of war; and Gigi Perreau, the girl-next-door who is mystified by the brothers' bitter conflict.

Welk Signs Singer

NORMA ZIMMER, the blonde soprano who has appeared as a guest on ABC-TV's "The Lawrence Welk Show" the past few weeks, has been engaged by Maestro Welk as a regular singer for the program. She will not carry the billing of Champagne Lady since she is a ballad rather than a tempo singer.

Work of Chaplains

FIRST-HAND information on "The Work of the Chaplains of the New York City Fire Department" will be offered on "The Way to Go" Sunday by Rev. Frederick P. Eckhardt, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, who also is a Fire Department chaplain. (WCBS-TV, Channel 2, 9:30-10 A.M.).

11 Homeless In Fire At Tobyhanna

ELEVEN persons were left homeless from the Flaherty Apartment fire in Tobyhanna late Thursday night.

Forced to leave the dwelling were Sp 4 William Trimble, his wife and child; Sp 4 Andrew S. Price Jr., his wife and child; Sp 4 James R. Hommey and his wife; and Pfc LeRoy F. Nicholson, his wife and child.

The men are stationed at Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot and are members of the 510 Signal Co., Base Maintenance.

Firemen from Coolbaugh Township Fire Co. and Mount Pocono Fire Co. battled the blaze that destroyed the building. The loss, including contents, was estimated at $15,000 by Fire Chief Lloyd Knecht.

Firemen arrived at the scene at 10:50 p.m. and cut through eight inches of ice on Tobyhanna Creek to pump water to the fire. The creek flows near the scene of the fire.

The four family apartment house is owned by William and Frank Flaherty and they compensated the firemen for the job done in making a "good save" of the building.

Cause Undetermined
The cause of the fire remains undetermined and Chief Knecht is continuing with the investigation. He said the fire was discovered by the child of one of the families.

After putting the fire out, Coolbaugh firemen pumped the cellar full of water and had a crew to stand by during the night to watch for any new fire that might have broken out.

There was no damage to the service station operated by Thomas Hochrnie and Claude Pope.

America's Oldest RR Will Merge

BALTIMORE (AP)—America's oldest operating railroad and one of the pillars of the old Van Sweringen empire of the tracks, after months of dickering, formally decided yesterday to merge.

The Baltimore and Ohio, which ran its first trains in 1830, and the Chesapeake and Ohio, once controlled by the noted Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland in the '20s and later part of the extensive operations of Robert Young, made the joint announcement.

Officials of the New York Central Railroad, which had figured prominently in merger talks in the past several months and which had made an offer to B&O stockholders, had no immediate comment.

The affiliation of the two roads is subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The joint announcement said the C&O offer was to exchange 1 share of its common stock for 1 1/2 shares of B&O common and 1 share of C&O common for 1 share of B&O preferred.

Danger Lurks
LILLE, France (AP)—In Flanders Fields the poppies still grow, and danger lurks. The French demining service reports in the past year it answered 2,170 appeals for help in digging out bombs and projectiles, many of them duds but others still lethal. They were from fighting in both world wars.

Three Tax Forms Are Explained

THE THREE tax forms provided for individuals in filing their 1960 Federal income tax returns were explained yesterday by R. P. Brownell, Director of Internal Revenue for Scranton District.

Brownell said, the following requirements are furnished to aid taxpayers in selecting the form that best suits their needs:

Form 1040A—This is the easiest form if a taxpayer is eligible to use it. One of the special features is that if his or her income is less than $5,000, he or she can choose to have the Internal Revenue Service figure the tax. He or she may use this form if:

1. His or her gross income was less than $10,000, and
2. It consisted of wages reported on withholding statements (Forms W-2) and not more than $200 total of other wages, interest, and dividends, AND
3. He or she wishes to take the standard deduction (10 percent of his or her income) instead of itemizing deductions.

Form 1040W
This is the new streamlined form. A taxpayer may use this form if:

1. His or her income consists of salary, wages and similar compensation regardless of amount, and
2. Not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and
3. No other items of income.

Form 1040
This is the regular four-page form which may be used by any individual (except a non-resident alien) regardless of the source or amount of his or her income.

Taxpayers who have any questions on this subject may get Document No. 5107, "Filing Your Tax Returns," by calling at your local Internal Revenue Service office, or by writing to "Forms Request," P. O. Box 688, Scranton 14, Pennsylvania. Mr. Brownell said.

"If you have any other questions about your Federal income tax return, telephone your local Internal Revenue office at W A1-8120," he advised.

Dear Abby

Endless Discussion

Dear Abby: We have been having an argument. Just how much of a person's success and failure is due to heredity and how much is due to environment?

STUDENTS: Dear Abby: I am 23, divorced and have two children. My boy friend is 30, married and has two children also. He was my boss at one time and we fell deeply in love. A month ago I had a child by him. No one knows anything about this. The baby is in a home right now waiting for me to sign the adoption papers or take him home.

My boy friend can't get a divorce without sacrificing his family, business and religion. He said if I kept the baby he would always provide for him. Should I keep the baby and raise him with my two? Or should I give him up? Please don't ask me to give up my boy friend. I love him so much I could never do it, so there's no use kidding myself.

"BIG DECISION" Dear Abby: I am desperate. I am only 20 but weigh 160 pounds. When I go to buy a dress, it must be a size 18 with a full skirt. My measurements are (please don't print my name) 38-28-46, so you can see where my problem is. How can I reduce my problem?

HIPPY Dear Abby: First, see a doctor about a diet. Rolling on the floor 15 minutes a day is dandy for reducing your "problem." Walking is good, too — but not to the refrigerator.

to cling to an illicit love affair. Keep the baby only if you decide to give up your boy friend. Any other decision would complicate the lives of many innocent people.

S. Sgt. Bernard Lebar

Sgt. Lebar To Take Part In JFK Inaugural Parade

ONE OF THE 36 Air Force Band members to represent Alaska and the Alaskan Air Command in President-elect John F. Kennedy's Inaugural Parade, will be S. Sgt. Bernard E. Lebar.

Boarding an aircraft at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, Jan. 16, Sgt. Lebar will, with members of the Alaskan Air Command Band, fly to the nation's Capitol where he, like the state, will participate in his first Inaugural Parade on Jan. 20th.

Sgt. Lebar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood E. Lebar, 276 Normal Street, East Stroudsburg. He plays drums in the Air Command Band which is composed of airmen from the 752nd Air Force Band stationed at Elmendorf, Headquarters for Alaskan Air Command, and the 592nd Air Force Band at Eielson Air Force Base, a component of the Command.

Upon request of Gov. William A. Egan, permission was granted by the Department of Defense, for the Air Force Band to represent the 49th State in the parade.

Duty for Sgt. Lebar is quite diversified; in addition to playing at civic functions and on-base ceremonies, he, with other bandmen, is often flown to remote areas in the Land of the Midnight Sun.

At isolated sites in the Arctic region, the band plays for the entertainment of Alaskan Air Command personnel who man aircraft control and warning facilities which support top cover defense for the United States.

Sgt. Lebar lives with his wife (the former Ruth E. Masteller of Bethlehem, Pa.) and their two children in government quarters at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police reported yesterday that a man was so disgusted with himself for failing to carry out a hold-up that he shot out 39 window panes in an unoccupied lodge then surrendered to police.

Rayburn Has Way To Solve Rules Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn yesterday came up with what he called "the painless way" to resolve a liberal vs. conservative row over the House Rules Committee.

Instead of ousting one conservative, the plan calls for adding two more liberal Democrats to the committee, plus another Republican.

As outlined to newsmen, the compromise endorsed by Rayburn would avoid the purging of Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., from his top ranking place on the committee.

However, Colmer, who bolted the Kennedy-Johnson ticket last fall, and Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., stand to lose their battle against dilution of their power through enlargement of the committee's membership.

"I'm for this plan because I think it would be painless for everybody," Rayburn said.

He added it was a way out that would embarrass nobody, "if they didn't want to be embarrassed."

Rayburn said the compromise plan for ending a row that has simmered since Congress convened last week will be submitted to a Democratic caucus next week and he expects overwhelming approval.

Under the plan, Rayburn and other Democratic leaders would appoint two more Democrats and the Republicans would be given one more seat on the committee. Smith would remain as chairman and Colmer would continue as senior Democrat.
